Introduction

Today I worked on features that allow clients to explore houses listed by a host. This is part of improving the user experience for clients who are searching for properties to rent through the platform.

What I Worked On

1. Page to View All Houses by a Host

I built a page where clients can see all the houses that were listed by a specific host. The houses are displayed in a clean, organized layout with key details like title, image, and pricing. This helps clients easily browse through a host's available properties in one place.

2. Page to View Full House Details

I also created a detailed view for each house. When a client clicks on a listing, they are taken to a separate page with full information about the property — including the description, location, pricing, and any extra details. The design is mobile-friendly and clear, making it easier for clients to learn more before making a decision.

Summary of Progress

Clients can now view all houses listed by a specific host.

Each house can be viewed in full detail on its own page.

These features make it easier for clients to explore rental options and get all the details they need directly from the platform.
